Why study in Bucharest?

Because it is the best opportunity to discover the well-known Romanian hospitality, its dynamic and energetic life. Named „Little Paris” in the 1900s because its wide, three lined boulevards, spectacular Belle Époque buildings and fantastic high life, Bucharest is today a restless metropolis.

The highlights of the Old City, the old churches, the historic architectures transformed the Old City in the most vibrant area of the city.

From the large art museums hosted in grandious buildings, such as the former Royal Palace or Palace of the Parliament, to the picturesque Village Museum and Grigore Antipa National Museum of Natural History, Bucharest has something for everyone.

Also, Bucharest has a vibrant cultural scene. Whether it's theatre, ballet, music or contemporary art, locals love culture.

Bucharest hosts every year many concerts of world bands and musicians. Festivals like „George Enescu Festival” (he biggest classical music festival in the region), „Street Delivery” and „Art Safari” need no advertising.

Known for its vitality and cosmopolitan way of life, Bucharest will make you feel right at home no matter what town you are coming from.
