

The Department of Theoretical Physics presents:

Jose del Peso
(UAM)

talking about

GRID COMPUTING

Grid computing has been proven useful for very high intensive applications. In particular, it is a necessary technology for the processing of the LHC data by the large experimental Collaborations. In this talk I am going to introduce the general concepts of Grid computing and show our activities in a Grid node located at UAM.

Wednesday, January 30, 2013 @ 15:00h, Sala 201 in Modulo C-15