Fact Sheet

FGV EPGE

EPGE Brazilian School of Economics and Finance

 FGV EPGE

About EPGE

As a pioneering institution established in 1961, EPGE Brazilian School of Economics and Finance has been at the forefront of economics education and research in Brazil and Latin America.

Since its foundation, EPGE has been home to many of Brazil's top economists and influential figures in academia, government, and business.

We periodically receive visits from highly distinguished professors and researchers in the field of economics. Since 2010, more than 500 professors at the best economics departments around the world have visited EPGE, including seven Nobel Prize-winning economists:

Calendar and Curriculum

Spring Term, 2025:
February, 10th to July, 16th

Fall Term, 2024:
August, 5th to December, 20th

Credit System:

FGV does not work with the ECTS system, but rather with hour credits. The courses offered by FGV EPGE usually have a load of 60h (approximately 5 to 6 ECTS) or 30h (approximately 3 to 4 ECTS). Students are graded on a scale from 0 (minimum) to 10 (maximum). The passing grade is 6 (six).

- 2 exams (evaluations) per semester. Final grade is the average of these 2 exams.
- Students are allowed to take an extra evaluation at the end of the period to replace the lowest grade obtained or an evaluation missed (if a student misses an evaluation without justification, his/her grade will automatically be 0 (zero)).

Attendance:

The student fails if his/her attendance by the end of the period is less than 75%.

Calendar and Curriculum

Workload

The Undergraduate courses are taught in the morning, between 7:30 am and 12:50 pm. The courses offered in English are following ones. The list may change. It is important to check when registering which courses are actually offered that semester.

Requirements

Students need to be selected and nominated by their Home Institution.
All nominations must be sent to FGV EPGE by e-mail.

Application

Students are required to present the following documents:

- a. International Student Application Form (available online);
- b. Statement of Responsibility (available online);
- c. Declaration of Support and Liability (available online);
- d. Jpeg file containing recent color photo – white background, clear, good quality, not framed, full face, without sunglasses, hat or other head cover, unless for cultural or religious reasons (the face must not be covered);
- e. Copy of passport containing document's number, expiration date and personal details;
- f. Copy of school's transcript clearly showing the academic level of the student (Bachelor's or Master's). Sometimes it is not easy to identify from the transcript at which level the student is, in which case additional documentation or a letter from the student's advisor/coordinator may be requested;
- g. Copy of an insurance policy with minimum coverage of EUR 30,000 (thirty thousand Euros) or US$ 42,000 (forty-two thousand Dollars), valid for the entire period of the exchange program, incl. posthumous transfer to the home country;
- h. Resume.

International Office will assess all documents. Should any doubts arise, further documents and/or clarifications may be requested from the student or from the International Office from student's Home Institution.

An Acceptance Letter will then be issued, signed by the Coordinator of the Program the student intends to enroll (Bachelor or Masters) and sent by regular mail to the IR Coordinator of the sending institution.

Requirements

Language Requirements

All FGV EPGE Programs (Undergraduate, Masters and Professional Master) are currently taught in Portuguese. Although no proof of proficiency in Portuguese is required, candidates should be able to communicate in the language in order to be able to follow the programs. FGV EPGE offers elective courses taught in English at the Undergraduate level.

Visa

All international students must obtain a student visa to study in Brazil (Visa IV). The Acceptance Letter is one of the documents required by the Brazilian Consulate in order to issue a student visa.

For comprehensive information regarding visa application, students should contact the local Brazilian Consulate. Please note that the Brazilian offices normally require that the student's passport must be valid for at least 6 (six) months after the end of the study period at the School.

Health Insurance

Students must show proof of health insurance with a minimum coverage of EUR 30,000 or USD 42,000 for the length of their stay (six months or a year).

Requirements

CPF - Individual Taxpayer Registry

All exchange students who wish to study in Brazil need to request this document. The CPF is a number assigned to each citizen in Brazil and used for various services.

After registering, the student must fill out the form in the link below and check with the Brazilian Consulate in the respective country to receive the document.

Find more information at <https://www.gov.br/receitafederal/pt-br/assuntos/orientacao-tributaria/cadastros/cpf/servicos/2-inscricao-no-cpf>

Federal Police Registration

All foreign students who wish to remain in the country for three months or more must register with the Federal Police, within a maximum period of 90 calendar days, counting from the day of arrival in Brazil.

FGV EPGE will provide the nominated students with information on the registration.

Additional Information

School Facilities

Library, computer labs, café, restaurant and bookstore.

Health center, with a registered nurse and a Medical Doctor (General Practitioner). Students can have free consultations with the doctor, who may prescribe medicine or refer students to a specialist.

There is a subway station within five minutes walking distance from the school and a bus stop right in front.

Dress Code

Fundação Getulio Vargas has a very strict dress code. People wearing short skirts, shorts and/or flip-flops will be denied access to the building.

Students who fail to comply with this regulation will not be allowed entry into the building under any circumstances.

Accommodation

Fundação Getulio Vargas does not have its own housing (residences), therefore out-of-town and international students will need to seek private accommodation.

Some useful websites:

Uliving

Airbnb

Roomgo

Rei Moradias

(Facebook group where exchange students or their friends post info on available.)

Additional Information

Buddy Program

A buddy is a FGV student who has volunteered to act as a mentor and help one or more international students with any problems arising during his/her stay in Rio.

Please contact the International Office for further information.

Living Expenses

Living expenses are dependent on the student's lifestyle; however, we estimate that the student would need approximately US$ 1.000 per month.

Orientation Meeting

Each semester, the International Office schedules an orientation session with exchange students.

This session happens one to two weeks before the start of classes, to provide important information, answer questions and bring students and buddies together.
